PASTORAL DEVOTION FOR OCTOBER

THE GOOD LIFE

Read - Luke 9:18-27

A quick trip down the self-help aisle of your favorite bookstore suggests the way to living the good life is a positive outlook, high self-esteem and a heavy dose of optimism. Even some well-known evangelical authors try to convince us that the key to a good life means understanding God wants us to have our best life now. In such cases and through their royalties, it is usually the authors of such books who realize the good life they proclaim.

Jesus teaches his followers a much different path to a full and rich life. Jesus calls God's people to forsake the ways of the world by taking up a life of humble service for the sake of others. Denying ourselves and taking up the cross means we are to follow the example of our Lord, loving our neighbors and putting their needs ahead of our own. Such a life eschews the notion of living our best life now.

Christians know this earthly life is but a glimpse. It is not something to be treasured above all else, but to be lived in such a way that others may also receive a glimpse of the kingdom to come. Jesus says, "For whoever would save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will save it" (v. 24). The good life we aspire to is the life of eternal joy in God's kingdom. To this life, there is only one book that truly points the way.

Prayer: Lord Jesus, equip and empower us to follow you along the path to eternal life. Amen.

Pastor Nuottila's sermons are posted on our church website. Please pass this word along to anyone who cannot worship with us on Sundays.

BLESSING OF THE ANIMALS

Our pets are a part of our family and a gift from our Father in heaven. They provide love and companionship asking little in return. Join your church family on Saturday, October 5th at 10:00 AM for a special time together on the lawn in front of the Church Office. Pastor David will lead a service of blessing and thanksgiving for the loving animals God has entrusted to us.

WORSHIP AND MUSIC

October is upon us. Cooler fall temperatures, leaves changing colors, high school and college football games, the State Fair – all serve as reminders that the year 2019 is rapidly nearing its end. But just because all the anthems have been chosen through the Christmas season doesn't mean that I, or the singers, can rest on our laurels.

Church music isn't like any other kind of performance. When you go to a concert, the band, orchestra, or choir have been rehearsing for months and the concert is the culmination of those months of practice. Once the concert is over, they move on to the next concert.

The foremost difference between church music and other vocal or instrumental groups is that church music is NOT a performance. It is, in its purest form, our prayer, our praise, our expression of gratitude to our Lord and Savior for His unconditional love, mercy and grace. For me, it is an ongoing, constant looking ahead to the next season, and the one following; always working ahead so that the musicians have ample time to develop the musicality of each piece that we sing or play. It is a challenge to look so far ahead and choose hymns and anthems that will not only compliment but enhance the Scriptures, and sometimes, I do miss the boat. But it's those other times, the times when everything fits together like a giant puzzle; I know that the Holy Spirit was guiding my choices.

For that, I can only say ...Soli Deo Gloria
(to God Alone the Glory), Laurie Lackey

YOUTH DIRECTOR & FAMILY MINISTRIES

I have been learning a lot this month about identity. I have heard that word over and over in sermons and Bible studies, but it never really resonated with me until recently. During a time of major change in my life, I want to remain rooted in who I am regardless of my changing surroundings and circumstances. I know this is the case for most of us when we have a lot going on. We often push ourselves to the backburner because we simply don't have the time. But what we don't realize is that from who we are comes everything else.

Since our identity comes from God, we can only find it in Him. Jesus says in Matthew, "If anyone wants to follow after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me. For whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life because of me will find it." Sometimes we let life speak louder than truth by letting our circumstances define who we are and how we're doing. It's a form of idolatry to let things matter more than what matters most, our relationship with Him and who He says we are.

We hear the words "die to self" and it seems intimidating, but it really is a gift. There is nothing greater than fullness of union with Christ: when we are fully surrendered and a walking sacrifice. His joy becomes our joy; His love, our love; His peace, our peace; His strength, our strength. From this place of identity, we no longer chase after the desires of the flesh but rather, seek to glorify God in all areas of our life. From this place, we no longer fear the future or provision. Lastly, we don't have to suffer without confidence that our circumstances will produce things of eternal value. Just as Jesus' sufferings were not wasted, neither will ours be. Praise God that He loves us enough to take us from brokenness and rebellion to a new identity in Christ because of the sacrifice of His Son. There is no life apart from Him and we can experience this fullness of life when we lay down ourselves, our schedules, and our control in order to step into who He says we are and who He calls us to be.

Our youth will meet at 5 PM on Sunday, October 6th in the fellowship hall. Due to the fall festival, we will not have a meeting on Sunday, October 20th.

Grace and peace,
Rachel

From the Pastor's Heart by Pastor David Nuottila

October! It's October already! It seems summer has simply flown by. Yet, even as I reflect upon all we shared the past few months, there is much to plan and prepare for during the months ahead. Our church calendar is filling up with activities, Christian learning opportunities and several other ministry events for everyone to consider being a part of. As you begin making room for the many opportunities for your church and family in October, let me ask a simple question: How do you plan to be a disciple of Jesus Christ each and every day?

Each morning, Christians wake up to the opportunity to show the love of Christ Jesus to others who may not realize God's activity in their lives. As God's people we also wake up to the Christian responsibility to thank God for the many blessings He showers upon us, and to offer Him the finest of what we can offer of ourselves.

When a child of God begins each new day with such emphasis, the life of discipleship begins to take hold and we live into the calling God has for each one of us. So again, this begs the question: How do you plan to be a disciple of Jesus Christ each and every day? In my asking this twice, I hope you are not simply waiting for my answer. I hope you are not expecting me to offer a directive for the church that challenges you to do your part as I see it, for such is not my intent.

I am asking this question because as followers of Jesus Christ, we each respond to His call to follow in different ways. Some are able to engage in the life of the congregation more regularly than others. Some have time enough to come to the church and serve on committees, provide services such as lawn care and cleaning, others may even show up every time the doors are open. Others among us have different responsibilities.

Within our church family, we have parents with small children, members who work not just one, but two jobs, and still others who may have health related issues that prevent them from participating as they once did. Yet, no matter where we may fall in this broad spectrum, as God's people each one of us share the Christian responsibility to love God with all our hearts and to love our neighbor as ourselves. We all share Jesus's calling to go into the world and make disciples by sharing with them the good news of God's salvation. So understanding this, I'll ask one last time: How do you plan to be a disciple of Jesus Christ each and every day?

As Pastor, I will do my best to help you discern the answer to this question. I will do what I can to help you pray, study God's Word and live among God's people so that you might hear the still small voice of the Holy Spirit who is calling you to a life of discipleship. I will continue to pray for you and your family, preach to you the gospel of Christ Jesus, lead you in worship and teach you and your children the faith in which we baptize. In turn, I pray that you too will help me to further discern the answer to our question, for even pastors need to learn to take time to enjoy their relationship with our loving heavenly Father.

Yes, we have a busy month ahead of us; one filled with opportunities to worship God, love our neighbor and enjoy the fellowship of God's people. Take a good look and identify those opportunities where you and your family can grow in faith and discern your answer to my question. Choose to take time each day to live as a disciple of Jesus Christ, seeking God's kingdom first. Then be sure to share His blessings of grace, mercy and peace with those whom God places within your midst. Soon, you will realize you are living the life of discipleship, and the question will have its answer.

Grace to you and peace,

Pastor David Nuottila

CONGREGATIONAL RETREAT AT ST. CHRISTOPHER

Our next congregational retreat is scheduled for the weekend of January 10th-12th at beautiful Camp St. Christopher on Seabrook Island, SC. Last year several of our church family members enjoyed a time away for study, fellowship and refreshment as we shared our faith with one another. The theme of our retreat will be Living and Growing as Disciples of Jesus Christ. The cost per person is $150.00, the same as last year. There will be discussion concerning discipleship within families, discipleship of our children and being disciples for the sake of others. We will even enjoy a session around the campfire on the beach!

For those who may need assistance in meeting the cost, please contact Pastor David. Money should never be the issue for people to miss an opportunity to grow in faith and their relationship with Christ. Registration forms are available in the narthex and also through email. Just contact the church office.

FALL FESTIVAL/OCTOBERFEST

You are invited to St. Jacob's second annual Fall Festival/Oktoberfest on Saturday October 19th, at 2:00 PM. It will be an afternoon full of German food, games, and fellowship celebrating the fall season together. Some of the activities include hayrides, painting pumpkins, cornhole, and more! There will be activities for all ages—We look forward to having you here and always feel free to extend the invitation to others!

UP AND GOING

Thursday, Sept 12th began bright, sunshiny and warm as the Up and Going group arrived at St. Jacob's Church and began loading the St. Jacob's Express to go to Hendersonville, NC for the annual Apple Run. Eighteen members and guests were on board and Helen Lindler, Team Leader gave the devotions based on the fruits of the Spirit. She reminded us that we, as older adults, possess love, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control, all fruits of the Spirit and that God expects us to use these gifts. We are never too old to be of use to God. Pastor Brad Hales information sheet "Engaging the Aging" was passed around for all to read. There are always things that we can do to make our world a better place no matter our age or station in life. When we can do very little else, we can always pray for our Church and others. Remember to pray for, Gloria Dugan and Gloria Ziemer, we miss having them with us. The Treasurer's report was given and other business was discussed.

Gerald took us on the scenic route to Hendersonville via Lake Lure, the Flower Bridge and Chimney Rock. We laughed and talked about other adventures in the mountains. We ate a delicious lunch at Bay Breeze Seafood Restaurant in Hendersonville. Next was Lyda Farms to buy apples, cabbage, tomatoes, honey and all sorts of goodies including pumpkins. The bus was loaded with our treasures. An unexpected stop was at Grandad's Apples to purchase fried apple pies, apple dumplings, cider, ice cream and other treats. Oh, Oh, so good! Loaded with treats, hot and tired we headed home. The bus buzzed with chatter and laughter as we made our way back to St. Jacob's around 5 PM. We were hot and tired but all agreed that it had been a great day together!!

The October Meeting is scheduled for the 2nd Thursday in October, Oct 10th. We will go to the Happy Cow Creamery in Pelzer. Watch your worship folders for more information.

REFORMATION SUNDAY

Reformation Sunday is the day Lutherans remember and reflect upon the ministry and mission of Martin Luther as he called the Church to debate his 95 Theses concerning God's grace and salvation. In 1517 on All Hallows Eve (Oct. 31) Luther nailed his call to debate on the doors of the Castle Church in Wittenberg setting in motion the events that would lead to the Sixteenth Century Reformation.

Within the Lutheran Church today there are several traditions observed as we commemorate this anniversary. On Reformation Sunday we will, of course, sing A Mighty Fortress Is Our God and we will affirm our Baptism into Christ's death and resurrection. Another tradition is the wearing of red which symbolizes the entry into eternal life through the blood of Christ Jesus. Everyone is invited to wear the color red during our worship service on Reformation Sunday, October 27 as we mark one more Reformation celebration and look forward to the return of our Lord Jesus.

LUTHERAN MEN

The Lutheran Men will meet on Sunday, October 20th at 6 PM in the fellowship hall.

Lutheran Women will meet Sunday, October 20th at 4:30 PM in the fellowship hall. Joan Marco has the devotions for the meeting.

MORNING BIBLE STUDY

Morning Bible Study returns on Wednesday, October 16th beginning at 9:30 AM. Our subject of study will be a study written by our Homecoming guest Pastor Brad Hales titled Graying in Grace: Becoming Mature Disciples of Jesus Christ. Copies of the study will be available for all participants, so the only materials you will need is your Bible and a desire to grow in faith and discipleship. Those planning to participate are encouraged to invite their friends and neighbors to study with us.

DUTY AND DELIGHT

Along with many of you, my list of responsibilities seem to grow larger each day. We all have obligations that we must fill in our families, in the workplace and at home. Are these meant to be our primary duties? What about our duties and obligations to God and His church? We fill the needs in our homes, with cleaning, cooking, laundry and lawn care. All these things seem to keep our lives in order. What of our spiritual lives and our duties to the Kingdom of God? You can find the word "duty" often in scripture. In Luke 17:10, Jesus said, "so you also, when you have done all that you were commanded, say, "We are unworthy servants, we have only done what was our duty."

As Christians, we should take delight in our obligations. "It is our duty and delight that we should everywhere and always offer thanks and praise to you, O God, through Jesus Christ ..." We should always strive to serve our Lord with a joyful heart. The more that we actively serve, the closer we walk with Jesus. Membership of a congregation carries responsibility. We are the body of Christ, and all parts must work together to know and show Christ's love in every aspect of our lives.

Duty and delight seem to work best when paired together. I encourage you to find delight in even the most mundane chores. I give praise to God for the beautiful family that he has given me to care for. When I carry that thought with me, I can find joy in all my daily obligations. We should do the same in the responsibilities that we have in serving God. I thank God for our church and the people who worship and serve with us.

This month is stewardship month. As we begin to hand out the time and talent sheets, I urge you to follow what you are called to do. We all have God given talents and we would love to know how you can share yours.

Stewardship Team

THANK YOU!

I would like to thank everyone for their calls, get well cards, food, visits and most of all for all your prayers. After spending 23 days in the hospital and three surgeries later, I am now recuperating at home. Your continued prayers would greatly be appreciated.

Lorene
