Pastoral Devotion for April – Because He Lives

Read John 11:30-44

Once, a Sunday school teacher showed her class a picture of famous people gathered around God's table in heaven. The teacher then asked, "Where are you in this picture?" The children were puzzled. Finally, a boy spoke up saying, "We can't be in the picture, we're not dead yet." Such an understanding presents the resurrection as a distant and future reality.

Jesus's announcement, "I am the resurrection and the life," teaches us that the resurrection is closer than we may realize. Because of sin, every moment of human life occurs in the face of death. Yet, by grace through faith in Christ Jesus our sins are forgiven and death has lost its sting. Therefore, the resurrection is not some far off point in time that we await; it is a future and present reality for those who know Christ as Lord and Savior. Because he lives, we too shall live.

In their grief, Mary and Martha see only the earthly picture, the one in which their brother Lazarus is missing. Jesus invites us to gaze upon the heavenly picture and to take our place at God's table gathered with the saints of every time and space. This we do each time we come forward to receive the Sacrament of the Altar. As we profess our faith and belief in the communion of saints, we declare the reality of God's table extending from the one heavenly dimension into the earthly dimension of Christ's church on earth. See yourself in the picture. You are certainly there among those gathered at God's table.

Prayer: Eternal God, we give you thanks for raising your people from death to life, through your Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Into the Liturgy, part 7

The Sanctus

As the divine service continues, it reaches its peak in the singing of the Sanctus (pronounced Saank-toose). This singing is the highest form of praise to the God who created all that is seen and unseen, saves his people from sin, and grants believers eternal life in the kingdom of heaven. In the singing of the Sanctus, heaven and earth collide as the saints on earth are gathered at the table alongside the saints in heaven. Christians join their voices with the singing of the Seraphim Cherubim around the throne of God. We also join the cry of God's people as Jesus made his Triumphal Entry into the city of Jerusalem. The Sanctus (Latin for Holy) is the Church's own canticle of praise as she greets the crucified and risen Lord who comes to us through the Sacrament of the Altar. For this reason, the Sanctus is to be sung boldly, with loud music and voices.

The Eucharistic Prayer

The Eucharistic Prayer is a thanksgiving prayer that is said in the consecration of the bread and wine during the Christian Eucharistic liturgy. This prayer includes the Word of Christ's institution of the Sacrament (Verba) declaring his divine presence in, with, and under the elements of the bread and wine. Jesus says, "This is my body, given for you; this is my blood, shed for you." Jesus's words are spoken by the one agent whom he has called to preside at the table. His words connect the sacramental elements to his promise of forgiveness and eternal life. These are the means through which the elements are consecrated. This particular bread, and this particular cup, consecrated before this particular assembly are the means through which God extends grace. Received through faith, the body and blood of Christ are eaten and drunk for the forgiveness of sin. The Verba concludes with the Lord's Prayer.

From Your Pastor's Heart

Now on the first day of the week Mary Magdalene came to the tomb early, while it was still dark, and saw that the stone had been taken away from the tomb. John 20:1

John's account of Christ's resurrection, as with all others, begins on the first day of the week, while it is still dark. In many instances, this mirrors the church's annual accounting of the same event. Many congregations across denominational lines celebrate Divine Services at sunrise on Easter morning. The idea is to greet the new dawn with songs of thankfulness and praise as the Gospel of Christ is announced. It is a tradition held in many and various ways. But the unifying factor in the varied celebrations is that it happens earlier than normal.

Truly, the resurrection breaks the bonds of comfortable routine. Mary came to Jesus's tomb early while it was still dark. That is anything but routine. People, especially women, didn't travel alone in the dark, let alone following such a tumultuous few days as those in Jerusalem. And the local graveyard was not a place where one would expect to find a woman alone at such a peculiar time.

What did she expect to find? How would she roll away the stone? When the other women got there could they help? Questions surrounded her in her grief, questions she could not have been expected to answer. Yet, in true wonder and amazement, God answered Mary's questions for her. The stone, that barrier that separated the Lord from all others, was rolled away. Inside, the tomb was emptied of its contents; Jesus was gone; raised, alive, resurrected!

Suddenly, early in the morning on the first day of the week, while it was still dark, light shined on the world. This should remind you of another time when darkness was all that there was. In the beginning, God said, "Let there be light!" And there was light, and God saw that the light was good.

At the dawn of the first Easter Sunday, God raised his Son Jesus of Nazareth from the grave and said to our darkened, fallen world, "Let there be light!" This light, the light no darkness can overcome, burst forth from the grave in majestic triumph over death. No wonder the stone was rolled away, the grave could not withhold the light of Christ.

For those who did not come to the tomb, questions remained, and darkness prevailed. How could it happen that Jesus was crucified? It didn't make any sense that a man hailed as king one day, would be executed by the end of the week. Their confusion reached an even higher level when reports were made that Jesus's body was gone. Some even said they saw him alive. Once again, this is anything but routine.

In our world today, confusion still remains when it comes to the risen and living Lord Jesus. The world won't accept it. How can someone who was dead be alive again? How can one man's dying save the entire human race's sin? The powers that defy God are perfectly content to hold Jesus in the darkness of the grave. They are also perfectly content to keep the risen Lord's disciples fearful of reprisals lest they begin proclaiming his victory over sin and death.

Yet the promises of God are sure. Sin has been defeated, and the light of Christ shines bolder and brighter than even the sun. Through our risen Lord, fear gives way to assurance, doubt surrenders to belief, and those who call upon the Risen Lord Jesus are provided the peace of God that passes all understanding. It is the message our fallen and broken world so desperately needs to hear. Open the doors and go tell others, for the peace of Christ is to be shared with all.

Prayer: Almighty God, provide a clear voice for your church, that the good news of your grace is shared throughout the world. Amen.

Grace to you and peace,

Pastor David Nuottila

Pastors Visit the Disaster Response Shed

On Thursday, March 20th, several pastors and lay leaders of the South Carolina Mission District visited our NALC Disaster Response Shed. Many were glad to see the growing inventory and asked questions on how their congregations might help provide materials for those recovering from hurricanes, floods, and other disasters. Thank you to Don Dease for his leadership in coordinating and managing our disaster response shed.

Music Notes

It's hard to believe that we are almost through our Lenten journey, but with all the pollen in the air, it must be time for Palm Sunday and Easter. Our younger choristers have been learning the history and words of the hymn "All Glory, Laud and Honor." This beautiful hymn that we sing every Palm Sunday as we process into the church waving palm branches was written by St. Theodulph. Theodulph was a priest and writer and was appointed the bishop of Orleans, France by Charlemagne in 781. When Charlemagne died, his son, Louis the Pious, imprisoned many people in fear of rebellion including Theodulph who wrote this beloved hymn while in prison. Wrongly accused of treason, Theodulph clung to his faith and praised his redeemer. May we all show such faith in the challenges we face throughout our lives. Please talk to the children about Theodulph and what it means to you to know that Christ is your redeemer.

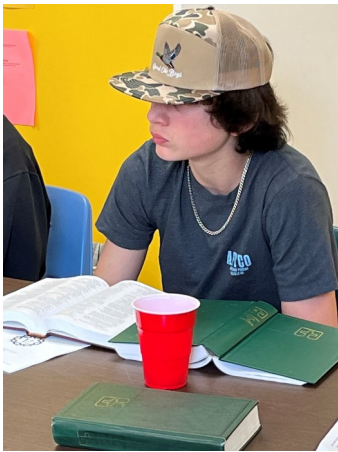

Choir rehearsals will return to Wednesday evenings at 6:00 PM at the end of Lent.

The children's choir is currently working on an anthem based on the Lord's prayer and our making their own prayer books.

Youth Members Leading Worship

Our St. Jacob’s Youth members in grades six and above lead the congregation in worship on the last Sunday in the months with five Sundays. This has been a blessing to our church and to these young people as they continue to study and learn more about the church’s liturgy. We are thankful for each of these faithful kids and look forward to having them lead us in worship.

YOUTH NEWS

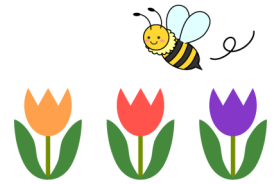

Get ready for Stars and Strikes! Join us for laser tag, bumper cars and the video arcade on Sunday, April 27th from 3:00 to 6:00 PM. The fun begins right at 3:00 PM so be sure to arrive at least 10 minutes before time. The cost is $22 per youth and includes pizza and a drink. Please let Angela Nuottila know if you will be attending.

The youth group met at the end of February to host the chili cook-off. It was a great success and of course June Lindler took home the award for best chili. We have also been busy planning worship for the end of March and taking part in the Cross Walk on the Palmetto Trail. Pictures of the Cross Walk will be included in next month's newsletter.

Up and Going

Eighteen members and guests gathered in the Fellowship Hall to enjoy the March Up and Going meeting. A delicious covered dish meal consisting of salads, meats, vegetables, sides and desserts was enjoyed by all. Everything was so tasty. Thank you to all of our cooks.

After the meal, Helen Lindler, Team Leader, gave the devotions from Our Daily Bread entitled "Seeing God In Creation." The Bible reading was from Job 42: 1-6. She then read an article "The Signs of Spring" from Irmo Chapin Life magazine written by Keith Kneeshaw.

We then gathered at the work tables to write greeting cards and make beautiful bows which will be attached to the Hospice Easter Bags that we will make at the April meeting and deliver to Lutheran Hospice for distribution.

The April Up and Going meeting will be held on Thursday, April 10th at 11:00 AM in the Fellowship Hall. Lunch is a covered dish meal. After lunch, we will assemble Easter Bags for Hospice. Please bring Easter items to put in these bags.

Holy Week – April 13th-19th

Holy Week this year begins as always on Palm Sunday and continues through Holy Saturday, the eve of the Resurrection of our Lord. Palm Sunday worship will commence on the sidewalk in front of the church (weather permitting) with the Blessing and Procession of Palms. It is Christian tradition that on Palm Sunday, the Passion narrative of Christ is read before the assembly. A brief sermon may precede the reading of the Passion, but preferably the preaching clergy allow the Passion of Christ to speak for itself.

Divine service will resume with the Great Triduum (Three Days) beginning on Maundy Thursday, which commemorates Christ's giving "a new commandment" (Mandatum). Through his washing his disciples' feet, Jesus gives the commandment to "love one another as I have loved you" which takes the form of selfless service to others. The service reaches its climax as God extends his table through the receiving of the Sacrament of the Altar. In remembrance of Jesus's betrayal and arrest, the altar and church nave are stripped of their worship appointments as the cantor sings Psalm 22, "My God, why have you forsaken me?" The service includes no benediction (Good Words), and the congregation departs in silent reflection on Christ's passion and his approaching crucifixion.

The Divine Service resumes on Good Friday with the traditional Tenebrae Service (Service of Shadows). Worshippers gather in silent reflection, pondering the sacrifice Christ made on their behalf. The service includes the confession of sin, solemn reproaches and seven readings concerning the crucifixion and death of Jesus. With each reading, light is diminished until the church is shrouded in darkness. Once more, at the conclusion of the service, the congregation departs in silence as it awaits the good news of Christ's resurrection on Easter Sunday.

Easter Divine Services

Our traditional Easter Sunrise Service is scheduled for 7:00 AM on Easter Sunday, April 20th. A Festival Service of the Resurrection will commence at 10:00 AM. This service will include a full processional, Gospel Procession and Trumpet accompaniment as we celebrate the Resurrection of our Lord Jesus. Please invite family members, friends and neighbors to join us on Easter Sunday.

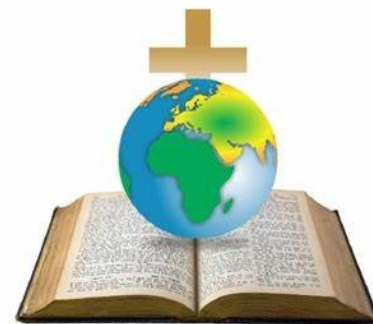

Lutheran Women - Easter Egg Hunt

The Lutheran Women will host their annual Easter Egg Hunt on Saturday, April 12th from 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM. There will be crafts to make and games to play and a light lunch will be served. There will be lots of eggs to hunt so please come and bring your Easter basket! Invite some friends as well.

Older kids are welcome to come and help hide the eggs. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

Congo Mission Update

I'm not sure how many folks have been paying attention to the news of the ongoing struggle in the Democratic Republic of Congo, but there have been some significant and terribly unfortunate events taking place. The neighboring country of Rwanda has sent and supported militaristic factions and groups over the border and seized several of the bordering cities and other areas. These incursions have led to violent protests in several parts of the country, including the capital city of Kinshasa.

Given these political and military actions, Pastor Stephane Kalonji and I have concluded that I should not travel to the Congo this summer. Pastor Kalonji is Congolese and can blend in with the population while staying with family and completing our planned mission. Our amended agenda is for Pastor Kalonji to accomplish all that he and I had planned, including overseeing the construction of the parish building in Mbuji Mayi, education for laity, feeding orphaned children, freeing mothers and their babies from clinics, and supplying Bibles for those with such need. The decision regarding my travel breaks my heart as I pray for those pastoral colleagues and friends whom I have longed to visit. Please keep this situation in your prayers and ask God for resolution, reconciliation, and restoration of all that has been affected.

Pastor Kalonji will travel to Kinshasa at the end of June and upon his return home will provide a full report on his work and also on the political and social climate of the area. I look forward to hearing his report and to seeing photos of friends within the Lutheran Church whom I have been closely associated with over the last ten years.

Mission Trip Interest Meeting

With all that has affected the lives of our neighbors in Western North Carolina, the opportunity for mission is greater than ever. In response to disasters, St. Jacob's has taken up donations for flood buckets, health and hygiene kits, along with various foods and supplies for the sake of others. Now is a good time to put "boots on the ground" as they say.

In April, I invite our church family members to join me for a discussion to gauge the interest of any who might like to make a mission trip to North Carolina this summer in order to help with recovery efforts. It will take years for lives to be put back together, and any small contribution we could make I'm sure would be much appreciated. All who are interested may join me on Thursday, April 3rd in the church office beginning at 6:30 PM.

Solid Rock Day Camp

Solid Rock Day Camp is looking for faithful young adults to work as day camp counselors this summer! Counselors lead bible time, crafts, games, devotions, and tons of good ol' kid fun with elementary age children at various locations across the southeast. It's not only a job, it's an amazing experience! Check our website for more information: <https://www.carolinas-nalc.org/home/youth/>.
