Devotion for July – Be Content

Read 1 Timothy 6:1-10

Singer/Songwriter Harry Chapin once spun a tale of a man named Mr. Tanner, a dry cleaner who was very good at his work. He was content with his chosen profession and loved his customers. Tanner was also a baritone who loved singing. Chapin said of Tanner, “He did not know how well he sang, it just made him whole.”

As the song goes, Tanner's friends convinced him he should give up dry cleaning and pursue fame and glory. He would be able to leave the dry-cleaning business, become famous and enjoy a life of great prosperity. Yet, it was not to be; his debut proved that, while talented, public performance was not his calling. Dejected, Tanner gave up singing and his life was not the same.

God blesses his people with many gifts and talents. Used for God's purposes, our gifts and talents bring joy to others. Humbly sharing these for the sake of others glorifies our God through whom such gifts come. Of course, there is always the temptation to seek glory, fame and fortune for ourselves, especially when swayed by others.

Just as Jesus teaches there are people of the world who would lead us astray, so too Paul teaches us that we are to be content with all God provides. Worldly influences may tempt us to seek glory for ourselves, but loving God and using our gifts to his glory brings joy and makes us whole.

Prayer: Holy God, make us content with all you have provided, that it may be our joy to serve others. Amen.

Congo Mission Update

Sadly, the Congo Mission fundraising effort for this summer's mission trip did not go well. Pastor Kalonji and I fell well short of our budgeted goal. The mission, however, does continue. We raised enough funds to send Pastor Kalonji to Kinshasa and Mbuji-Mayi for a three and one half week mission trip. While in country, Pastor Kalonji will carry on the mission work of preaching, teaching, feeding orphaned children and freeing mothers and their babies from detention in clinics. He will also inspect the progress on the construction of the first ever

Lutheran Church building in the Kasai-Oriental province. Pastor Kalonji and I worked with Pastor Mozart of Mbuji-Mayi to secure land and construct this building. The new parish has been dedicated as New Jerusalem Lutheran Parish.

While I have not been able to travel to Congo recently, I go with him in spirit. The work that we do in Congo is a very important ministry for the sake of the Lutheran community there, and I deeply miss the friends I have made and serving a people who are so welcoming of the messengers of God's Word. While saddened that I cannot visit Congo this summer, I am pleased that God continues to provide for our Congo Mission efforts.

I am committed to making the trip next summer. As the ambassador for Congo Mission International, I have already begun efforts to encourage our mission partners within the NALC to support this ongoing mission. Unlike other global mission entities, Pastor Kalonji and I do not have support from large sponsoring charitable organizations such as Samaritan's Purse, Thrivent, or Habitat for Humanity. We depend on the generosity of congregations and individuals to continue to do the mission we have engaged in since 2014. Anyone who feels called to lend a hand may help with a small monetary gift to our mission using the St. Jacob's Vanco online giving app.

Please join me in keeping Pastor Stéphane Kalonji and his family in prayer as he is away from home making this annual mission trip. He will depart the U.S. on Monday, July 6th and return on Friday, July 31st.

From Your Pastor's Heart

"If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free." John 8:31-32

Happy 4th of July, or as it is more formally known "Independence Day." July Fourth is the day we celebrate how wonderful it is to live in a country where we have freedom. In our 250 years of being a sovereign nation, Americans have enjoyed freedoms not shared in many countries around our globe. In light of that, I'm going to say something that might sound a little strange, especially as we celebrate the 4th of July. People in the United States aren't really free.

All we need to do is look around and see the evidence supporting such a statement. People continue to be divided by politics and social disagreements. Our founding documents state that all people are created equally yet so many of our citizens struggle against prejudices and oppression. The first amendment to the U.S. Constitution guarantees the right to freedom of religious expression, yet all too often, Christians are stifled when expressing their faith while pride concerning sin is allowed to parade in the streets. No, this doesn't sound like freedom at all. While we certainly have more freedom in America than other places, there's something we need to understand: You can live in the U.S. and still not be free. You can claim to be free and still not be truly free.

Read these words from our Lord Jesus. ³¹So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed him, "If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, ³²and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free."

³³They answered him, "We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, 'You will become free'?"
³⁴Jesus answered them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who practices sin is a slave to sin. ³⁵The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. ³⁶So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed." (John 8:31-36)

Freedom isn't manifested in political statements. It's not realized through tolerating false teaching or novel definitions of faithfulness. No, the people in Jesus's day tried that too, claiming special status as descendants of Abraham, but they were proven wrong by Christ. For so many people, their sense of freedom comes through their perceived status, or by choosing to do what they feel is good and proper...for them. But listen to what Jesus says. "Very truly I tell you, everyone who practices sin is a slave to sin."

Now, we all have to admit, each one of us has our faults. We are all guilty of sinful behaviors we would rather not discuss. If you carry a grudge against your neighbor, you are not free from sin. When greed overcomes your sense of generosity, you are not free. When substance abuse invades your need for control, you are not free. When you judge others according to your own perceived lofty standards, you're not free. After all, "Everyone who practices sin is a slave to sin."

People often say, "It's a free country, so I can do whatever I want." Do you know where that idea originated? In the Garden of Eden as the snake tempted Eve, Satan planted a false notion in Eve's mind. If you eat this fruit, then you will be like God, and you can be free to do whatever you want. The problem is, having a false sense of freedom to do whatever I want makes me even more of a slave to sin.

Do you truly want to be free? If so, listen to Jesus: "If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free."

Getting my way isn't freedom—not in Jesus's eyes. Freedom doesn't come from a country or a political party. It comes from the truth. "The truth will set you free." The devil's lie is that freedom is doing what you want. The truth is that real freedom is trusting in what Jesus did for you in taking your sin to the cross.

Through his victory over sin, death, and the devil, Jesus has set believers free. "If the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed."

Now think again of our country. What do we need? Not a certain political party. Not a change in the laws. What do we need? We need the truth. We need to abide in God's Word. That's what changes the hearts and minds of sinners in need of grace. Whenever you feel weighed down by sin, God's truth will set you free. Whenever you feel trapped by worry, God's truth will set you free. Whenever you feel surrounded by sadness, God's truth will set you free. This is the assurance of our Lord. "If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free."

Grace to you and peace,

Up and Going

Twelve members and guests gathered at the Doza Rizen Restaurant in Chapin on June 11th for the Up and Going meeting. The hostess seated us at a private table in the Palmetto Gallery Room.

We ordered drinks and menu items and seated ourselves at the designated spot. While we waited, we enjoyed admiring the artwork on display in the Palmetto Gallery. Our selected food items were delivered. We each chose our favorite items and enjoyed the delicious food while laughing and talking with each other.

Helen L. Lindler gave the blessing before our meal. It is so nice to enjoy each other's company in a casual setting. After lunch Helen gave the devotions. The Bible reading was Proverbs 11:25, "Whoever refreshes others will be refreshed." The reading concluded with this important advice

"love breeds more love, grace multiplies into more grace, and blessings expand as they ripple out on their journey."

Helen encouraged all to pray for The SC Oncology Center doctors, nurses, workers and all patients as well as all Up and Going members and guests, as many are dealing with health issues.

The July meeting will be held at the new Chapin Ale House on Chapin Road (the old JR Peters). Please meet there at 11:00 AM on Thursday, July 9th.
